

CONSENT FORM for sharing your story

WHY do we want to share your story?

CONCORDIA Social Projects is an international aid organisation supporting children, young people and families. We share stories of people we work with to show whom and how we help.

With our stories we want people to understand why our support is needed and raise funds and attention for our programmes for children and families.

HOW do we collect your story?

We would like to hear your stories, and record them through words, pictures, videos and/or sound.

It is up to you how much you share with us and in what format. Of course, you can still tell us afterwards if you want to leave out a certain part of your story. We handle sensitive and private content we share with care.

In order to protect its programme participants, CONCORDIA undertakes to change their names in order to respect personal rights of our programme participants.

WHERE do we possibly share your story?

As an international organisation we operate in different countries and share our stories internationally. Therefore, your story or parts of it could be shared in many countries, including your own.

This could be on the internet, television, in newspapers and fundraising and communication material.

Examples of use:
International CONCORDIA Impact Report

Fundraising Material Austria

Austrian and German Newspaper

➔ We may share your story with

- our supporters (companies, foundations, individual donors)
- other non-governmental and governmental organisations with whom we are cooperating
- journalists and public media (newspapers, magazines, TV and radio stations), photographers and filmmakers

HOW LONG?

CONCORDIA will rarely use stories older than 5 years. We only use stories older than 5 years in exceptional cases. In such case, we would ask in advance about the status quo and whether this is still desired.

If pictures were taken, it is quite possible that they are still in use after 5 years, both by CONCORDIA and by third parties.
